

HAMPTON, PHOEBUS AND OLD POINT.

NOT A VOTE AGAINST THE BOND ISSUE

Phoebus People Unanimously Cast Their Ballots In Favor of Spending $40,000 For Paving.

PROPERTY HOLDERS FOR BONDS

All of the 139 Votes Cast Endorse the Proposition to Pave Mellen and Mallory Streets and a Portion of Asylum and Water Streets and at Once.

That the people of Phoebus are thoroughly alive to the improvement of the town was strikingly demonstrated in the election held yesterday on the question of issuing $40,- 000 in bonds for paving Mellen and Mallory streets.

There were 139 votes cast and every voter expressed himself in favor of the proposed improvement.
When it is considered that the voting population of the town is not large the expression of the people can be taken as unanimous.

The polls were opened at sun rise and remained so until sun set. The election passed without incident, further than the unanimity of the vote in favor of the paving.

The fact that not a single tax payer placed himself on record as being opposed to street paving is a compliment to the progressiveness of a bustling town.

The town council will meet on Wednesday evening to open bids for the bonds, which are to be of thirty years standing, and to bear 5 per cent interest. As Phoebus bonds are considered most desirable property, it is likely that the bidding will be lively and that the bonds will net the town a good price.

The paving is to cover Mellen and Mallory streets, and a portion of Water and Asylum streets. Vitified brick will be used and the contract has been awarded to William A.
Young, of Norfolk.

Shakespeare's Indifference to Fame.

Shakespeare never took any trouble to hand himself down to fame and posterity. Superbly indifferent to renown, writing only as the sun shines and as the winds blow—because it was the work he was created for—he dashed off those marvelous productions, and when they had accomplished their object of paying his current expenses and pleasing the public of his time he retired to Stratford-on-Avon, utterly careless, as it seems, whether his splendid plays lived in the memories of men or died out of recollection. It was part of his royal and lofty nature, this large indifference, so grandly contrasted with the modern yearning to be advertised, the latter day ache to be lauded and remembered.—London Chronicle.

Not Their Fault.

General Schofield was once describing in Washington a certain retreat of cavalry. "I call it a retreat," he said, "but I should really call it a rout." He smiled. "In this retreat," he went on,
"the commanding general, as his charger tore like the wind along, turned to an aid who galloped beside him and said, 'Who are our rear guard?' The aid, without ceasing for an instant to belabor his panting steed, replied, 'Those who have the worst horses, sir.'"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

On the Lookout.

Towne—Whenever you hear a politician declare that "every man has his price" you may rest assured that he's one of them. Browne—Not necessarily.
He may simply be calling attention to the fact that he hasn't got his yet.— Philadelphia Press.

Suited Him.

His Wife—Yes, the girl is going to leave. She is lazy and good for nothing anyhow. The Professor—Why, I thought she was a model servant. She never attempted to arrange my papers.—Brooklyn Life.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bad writing. If it did there would be few children that would do it. There is a constitutional cause for this. Mrs. M. Summers, Box 42, Notre Dame, Ind., will send her home treatment to any mother. She asks no money. Write her today if your children trouble you in this way.
Don't blame the child. The chances are it can't help it.

WILL TOUR CANADA.

Messrs. Bickford and Woodfin, Go on a Hunting Trip.

Messrs. Robert G. Bickford, of Newport News, and Herbert B.
Woodfin, the postmaster at the National Soldiers' Home, accompanied by Mrs. Bickford, little Miss Bickford and Mrs. P. T. Woodfin, left last night for an extended visit to Canada and other points of interest.

Messrs. Woodfin and Bickford will spend the time hunting and will extend their trip to Newfoundland. The ladies will tour the various places of interest in Canada, including a visit to Quebec.

A MODERN ARCADIA.

Nowhere Are Life and Property So Safe as in Labrador.

A traveler who recently visited the coast of Labrador says that nowhere on earth are life and property held so sacred as in that little known and bar-ren land. A thousand miles of lonely seaboard, along which is scattered a population of some 10,000 people, about one-third of whom are white, would seem to give every opportunity for crime, yet there is no police officer of any kind, no court and no jail. Nor are they needed. The only criminal charge within fifty years was one against an Eskimo, who shot a rival in love.

In addition to the resident population the coast is visited every summer by about 10,000 Newfoundland fishermen, and, while Newfoundland itself is not by any means free from criminals, none appear to come among the fishers or else the example of the natives of Labrador causes them to refrain from any wrongdoing while there. Years ago a circuit court visited the coast every summer, but as it found nothing to do it was abolished. Now should any serious charge be made against a man a magistrate would be sent from Newfoundland to investigate it.—Harper's Weekly.

Satisfying Honor in India.

They had a peculiar way of going into bankruptcy among the Marwaris in India, now unhappily giving way to the less picturesque method of the white man. When a man could not pay his bills he would summon his creditors. They were ushered into a room in which the thakur, or household god, was enshrined, but covered up with a cloth and with the face turned to the wall in order that it might not witness the scene that was to follow. The insolvent would then, in garb of mourning, lie on the floor, presenting his back to his creditors, who, on a given signal, would fall on him with shoes and slippers and belabor him till their wrath was exhausted. The beating finished, honor was declared to be satisfied all around.

Bad Break.

Joe—Jack's new wife won't speak to me. Tom—Why not? Joe—I got confused at the wedding and tendered him my sympathy instead of congratulations.

Friends should not be chosen to flatter. The quality we prize is that rectitude which will shrink from no truth.
Intimacies which increase vanities destroy friendship.—Channing.

Onion Soup and Fame.

Membership in the French academy, the hoped for reward of Gallic writers, was once closely associated with onion soup. During the restoration in France a club was formed under the title of "Diner de la Soupe a l'Onion." This organization contained twenty members.
It met every three months, when the dinner was opened with an onion soup.
The club was to endure until every associate was elected to the academy.
This was accomplished in 1845, when the last banquet was held.

INFIDELITY TO BE DISCUSSED

Rev. J. W. Stiff Will Preach on the Above Subject While at the Episcopal Church Rev. Reverdy Estill Will Take "Heaven" as His Theme —Epworth League to Meet.

At the First Methodist church this evening the pastor, Rev. J. W. Stiff will preach on "Infidelity." This morning Mr. Stiff will take as his subject
"Our Promised Inheritance."

"Walking With God," will be the subject of the morning sermon by Rev. A. A. Driscoll, in Central Methodist church, today and tonight he will discourse on the "Joyful Sound." The Epworth League, which was recently organized by the young people of the church, will meet at 7:15 this evening, and Mr. H. W. Roundtree will be the leader.

Rev. Reverdy Estill, D. D., will preach on "Heaven" at both the morning and afternoon services in St. John's Episcopal church today.

Rev. Henry A. White, D. D., of Columbia Seminary, Columbia, S. C., will preach in the Presbyterian church this morning and there will be no services in this church this evening.

Rev. R. F. Hopkins will fill the pulpit of the Phoebus Baptist church today in the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. H. Bennett, who is visiting his former home in North Carolina.

Continuing his series of sermons to young men, Rev. E. Pendleton Jones, D. D., pastor of the Hampton Baptist church, will take as his theme tonight "The Young Man's Vision." Dr. Jones will also occupy his pulpit this morning.

Services at the Memorial Baptist Church will be as follows: Preaching by the pastor at eleven a. m. and eight p. m.; Men's bible class at ten o'clock to which all men are invited.

DEED TRANSFERRING LAND TO HOME PLACED ON RECORD

Uncle Sam Now Owns the Forty-three Acre Tract of Land at the Soldiers' Home.

The deed conveying the forty-three acre tract of land from the Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute to the United States government was admitted to record in the office of the Circuit Court yesterday morning.
The property transferred to the National Soldiers' Home, was purchased last July by the government.

The price was $129,000 or $3,000 an acre. The filing of the deed puts a quietus on all rumors regarding the abolishment of this branch of the Homes.

As the property was transferred to the United States government there is no state fee attached to the recordation. Clerk Holt receiving only $5.12 for the work. Had the state fee been charged it would have been $130.

The government is exempted from taxation.

Miss Wood Will Go to High Point.

Miss Eva Wood, who has been connected with the local office of the Western Union Telegraph office, will go to High Point, N. C., tomorrow to become the manager of the office in that place.
